DIAMONDS ™ CREDIT

20 Per Cent. Down 10 Per Cent. Per Month

New York is the greatest market in the world for precious stones. Since 1843 (sixty-six years), we have been engaged in business as Diamond Importers and Manufacturing Jewelers. We are the Largest Diamond Importers in the World. Our Diamonds are absolutely Blue White; accurately cut, exquisitely polished. With every Diamond we give a Certificate guaranteeing Quality and Value. Our immense business, long experience and high standing insure you a saving of from 15 to 25 per cent. on prices charged elsewhere. Our sactions are Strictly Confidential. We deliver any article purchased on first payment. We trust you—because our business is based on faith in the integrity of the people. We send any article selected for your examination without expense. If acceptable, keep Diamond Ring or other purchase and make first payment. Send for our Bustrated Catalogue 19 containing descriptions and prices. It is mailed Free to any address.

MLYON & CO. 71-73 Nassau St.N.Y.

JOHN F. FAY, 239 FAIRFIELD AVE. 4 Doors Above Broad St.

High class Furniture, Draperies and Novelties, re-upholstering and refinishing furniture, Shades and Curtains in tice to me." He further requests that awake worryin on my own account. It's as much for you fellers as for my- the few lines, then read aloud: great variety.

ng made to order and made over. The only store of its

THIS MEANS YOU! A POINTER

How To Improve Business

ONE OF THE MOST ESSENTIAL REQUISITES TO AN UP-TO-DATE, MODERN BUSINESS, IS A SELECT AND WELL-PRINTED ASSORT-MENT OF OFFICE STATIONERY. "A MAN IS JUDGED BY THE COM-PANY HE KEEPS." THE SAME RULE APPLIES TO THE STATION-ERY OF BUSINESS MEN.

The Farmer Publishing Co.

Book and Job Printers

27 Fairfield Ave.,

Bridgeport, Conn.

Slips of Artists. It is a part of the seeming ill luck belonging to circumstance that an artist may spend time and genius on a piece of work and then fall conspicuously in some detail. There is a story that one royal academician gave a hand five fingers and a thumb and that another painted a live lobster bright red. The clever Goodall had been engaged in painting a number of laborers dragging a huge stone across the desert, and a man of science, entering the studio, said to him:

"I say, Goodall, if you want those fellows to pull that stone you must double their number. It would take just twice as many."

But it is not modern painters alone who slip up on points of accuracy. Even Albert Durer, in a scene repre senting Peter denying Christ, painted one of the Roman soldiers in the act of smoking. Turner put a rainbow beside the sun, and in another picture he got woefully tangled in the ship's Incident of the Reign of Terror.

A dramatic incident of the reign of terror in France was the saving of her father's life from the guillotine by Mile. de Sombreuil. M. de Sombreuil and his daughter were condemned to death at the time of the September death at the time of the September massacres and were waiting in the cart, surrounded by the mob, for their turn to mount the scaffold. Mlle, de Sombreuil turned to the crowd and asked what harm a weak old man like her father could do to the nation. Some of the men answered that if she would drink a glass of blood to the nation they would let him go and passed up a glass. She drank it down immediately.

The crowd took her and has father The crowd took her and her father from the cart. They escaped and made their way to England. She thought at the time she drank blood, but afterward she concluded that it was red wine, for she saw no one stoop to fill the glass. To her death she was never able, however, to see red wine in a glass without a shudder.

neys and spend as much as is necessary in buying a slab, and place on it:
'Here lie the remains of S. Douglas Crane. Born the 8th of November, 1800, who served five years in the Georgia legislature and never lost a day and dies in the full faith of the Methodist doctrine and in full hope, to which church he wills $50." In conclusion the testator requests "to be seed to get down to work on the Blacarda matter, as soon as I come back from my vacation. It'll mean a week or two of big work, on the quiet. Then the bill's comin' up and find it isn't so. The air is like the few lines, then read aloud:
"It's like some wonderful dream and every day I'm afraid I shall wake up and find it isn't so. The air is like the quiet. Then the bill's comin' up and find it isn't so. The air is like convery day I'm afraid I shall wake up and find it isn't so. The air is like convery day I'm afraid I shall wake up and find it isn't so. The air is like convery day I'm afraid I shall wake up and find it isn't so. The air is like convery day I'm afraid I shall wake up and find it isn't so. The air is like convery day I'm afraid I shall wake up and find it isn't so. The air is like convery day I'm afraid I shall wake up and find it isn't so. The air is like convery day I'm afraid I shall wake up and find it isn't so. The air is like convery day I'm afraid I shall wake up and find it isn't so. The air is like crystal that has been dipped in bal-sam.' Why in blazes," interpolated Conover, in perplexity. "Should any-body want to dip crystal in balsam. I can't—"

"Go on" adjured Caine, "I understy step of the few lines, then read aloud:

"It's like some wonderful dream and every day I'm afraid I shall wake up and find it isn't so. The air is like convery day I'm afraid I shall wake up and find it isn't so. The air is like some vortex of the few lines, then read aloud:

"It's like some wonderful dream and every day I'm afraid I shall wake up and find it isn't so. The air is like some vortex of the few lines, then read aloud:

"It's like some w which church he wills $50." In con-clusion the testator requests "to be hates you; and he is not the sort of a man to confine himself to a single sky is so big, so near. And it seems yard with the honors of war, a colonel's salute."-Law Notes.

A Pillar In Ventce. At a corner of St. Mark's church in Venice, the one nearest the ducal palace, there has been standing since the wealth. One couple plotted against the other to secure all the treasure and at a feast each duo of plotters poisoned the other. The signory of Venice seized upon their goods. In commemoration of so unbrotherly a conspiracy and as a warning against avarice the unique and exquisitely carved pillar

The Sudanese Baby.

A Sudanese baby when dressed up in its best clothes is probably the most uncomfortable infant in the world. The coat or outer garment which fashion dictates should be worn reaches to the very heels. It is of heavy velvet, hanging in many folds. This, in turn, is adorned with countless buttons and bangles of brass, considerably adding to its weight. Its cap, in turn, is of the same material, similarly decorated and doubtless equally uncomfortable.

The Cocoanut. Many pagan people regard the cocoanut as of divine origin because it is so useful. It supplies almost all years there were 8,000 men employed in Africa in trapping wild animals to make sport for the people of Rome.

spectable Jew in Warsaw hanged himself the other day. He left a note, saying: "I have hanged myself out of mere curiosity. I could not help myself. I had to find out what they were doing in the other world."-Jewish

Advertise in the Farmer,

THE FIGHTER

By ALBERT PAYSON TERHUNE Author of "Caleb Conover, Railroader," "Dr. Dale," "On Glory's Trail," etc. NEW YORK FRANK F. LOVELL COMPANY

Copyright, 1909, by Albert Payson Terhune

(Continued.)

"Don't talk that way when you see the Standishes again," counseled Caine. "Mrs. Standish looks on Block Island as part of her religion. She—"
"Yes," grinned Caleb. "I s'pose so.
I can see the old lady doin' saint-poses

on the sand there."
"All her attitudes are beautitudes," agreed Caine. But as far as concerns Conover's comprehension, he might as well have said it in Greek.

"By the way." went on Amzi. "I have some fairly sure information from our political reporter that ought to interest both of us. It's about Bia-carda."

"If you mean Blacarda's got next to the Gov-ner and arranged a special session of Legislature in Sentember," interposed Caleb, "I knew that a week ago. The Starke bill's to be flashed on 'em in a new form, without our gettin' wind of it, an' it's to be rushed through, with an idea of knockin' our Steeloid combine flatter'n a pancake."

"You knew all this a week ago? Why didn't you—?" carda."

Why didn't you-?"
"It's my business to know things," replied Conover. "If I didn't, I'd be replied Conover. "If I didn't, I'd be takin' orders still, instead of givin' 'em. As for not tellin' you, what was the use? You'd a' found it out soon enough; an' I've been too busy to run an inf'mation bureau. I'll be ready for Friend Blacarda an' his crowd when the time comes; same's I was before. Just because I don't hire a brass band to p'rade the streets carryin' a placard of my plans, you mustn't run away with the idee that I'm overlookin' any with the idee that I'm overlookin' any bets. I've got everything in line. We'll win out, same as we did last Spring; an' by a bigger margin."
"But you may be detained as you were before. And next time you may not get back on time. Blacarda will move heaven and earth to keep you have the known by now as we all of weak-spined chaps of our crowd in the Assembly that's so scared at reform threats an' all such rot that they're ready to stampede if I'm not on hand to hammer the fear of the Lord into 'em. An' that same crowd's still big enough to turn the vote if they bolt to cover. But they won't. I'll be there. Blacarda ain't likely to play the

of secret service men."
"But if the bill should pass—" "It ain't goln' to. How often have ain't goin' to.

in Steeloid. On your recommendation I have put every available dollar in it. So have Standish and a half dozen others I know."

the ordinary of Lumpkin county, Ga.

After appointing three executors, he dish an' the others have a few thou-"solemnly" requests them "to law N.
Nicholson to the full extent of the law.
I impute my cramp collc to his injustice to me." He further requests that tice to me." He further requests that awake worryin' on my own account line of revenge."

"There's where you're wrong, son." in by gold-brick games. Look at me, or when it rains. And most of the phyry carved with the portraitures of four noble gentlemen of Albania. In fact they were brothers who went to Venice in a ship laden with vast.

We now and fish and tramp and the same of the people don't live at the hotel itself that they were brothers who went to read as a primer. Now, you look at Blacarda as a sort of man you look at Blacarda as a sort of man saw. We row and fish and tramp and the saw were brown as the same of the people don't live at the hotel itself that the same of the people don't live at the hotel itself and tent; and eat in the two big dingrooms that are houses by them solves. It's the outdoorest place I even the people don't live at the hotel itself that the same of my 'quaintance I haven't read through. So, they're as easy for me to read as a primer. Now, you look at Blacarda as a sort of man when it rains. And most of the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel itself that the people don't live at the hotel it you look at Blacarda as a sort of man who's li'ble to attack me from a dozen sides at once. That's 'cause you can't read him. I can. An' I know what he's li'ble to do an' what he ain't. Blacarda b'longs to the King Cobra class. Harmless as a kitten to them that knows where his poison's hid, an' only dangirous to folks that picks him up by the wrong end."

up by the wrong end."

Caleb, warming to his theme, leaned back against the corner of the table and laid down the coat he was folding. "Men who read men," said he, oracu-"Men who read men," said he, oracularly, "rule men. Men who read books are ruled by the folks who wrote them. That's the diff'rence. Let me explain what I mean by what I said 'bout cobras. I had to run down to Noo York last fall on business. I had a couple of hours on my hands an' I went into a squat, Dago-lookin' joint called the 'Rept'l House.' Full of snakes and crawly, slimy things. Big crowd in front of one glass cage. Only snakes and crawly, slimy things. Big crowd in front of one glass cage. Only snake in that cage was a big, long, brown critter with an eye that wa'nt good to look at. The sign said he was a King Cobra an' habitated somewhere or other. The attendant wanted to wash the winders of that cage from the inside. What does he do? Does he put his arms in an' wiggle a mop within reach of Mister King Cobra? Not him. He, or his boss, I guess, had learned to read snakes like I read men.

their needs. With its trunk they build houses, with its leaves they thatch their roofs, the fiber of its shell they weave into clothes, the hard wood of the nuts they cut into bowls and saucers. its kind is their food, its milk is their drink, and its narcotic root they dry and smoke.

Sport In Ancient Rome.

In the palmy days of Rome the number of lions brought from Africa averaged 400 per year for nine years, and with these were leopards, tigers, hyenas, elephants, buffaloes and serpents almost without number. For several years there were 8,000 men employed his mind the black snake ain't bent on c'mittin' sooside by beginnin' the fight. So down swoops the King Cobra with a sort of rustly, swishin' rush; an' he grabs the little snake around the middle. No—not by the head or tail. He's more mad than hungry. So he grabs him by the middle. An' he hangs on. "Now what does the attendant do? He opens the door at the back, kneels the opens the open on the threshold, leanin' out right above the King Cobra, an' ca'mly be-gins washin' the winders with his long mop. Ev'ry swipe that man makes at the glass, his hand comes within a foot of the Cobra. But he didn't even look snake within ten miles."

"But," asked Caine, interested in spite of himself, "there was surely danger that the Cobra might drop the little snake and strike at the man. If-" "That's just the point!" cried Caleb.

"He wouldn't. His pizen an' his temper was otherwise engaged. He'd sunk his fangs into one en'my. An' it ain't cobra natur' to let go, once he's got his grip. I found that out by askin' one of the keepers. The man with the mop was as safe in that cage, just then, as he'd a' been in a Meth'dist Conf'rence. The Cobra had just one idee. An' that idee was already on the idee. An' that idee was already on the

"Now, maybe you're wonderin' what this long yarn has to do with Blacarda. It has ev'rything to do with him. He's the King Cobra sort, if ever any man was. An' in his case, I'm the man with the mop. Blacarda's fitted out with a whole lot of fancy venom. An' he'd like nothin' better'n to get his fangs in me. I can't say I exac'ly blame him. But I ain't hankerin' to get bit. So I throws into his cage a little angle called 'Steelaid'. An' he get bit. So I throws into his cage a little snake called 'Steeloid.' An' he nabs it. So long's he's got his teeth in that, he ain't got the bigness of mind to bite anything else. When Steeloid's over, I'll toss him another little snake, an' so on to the end of the chapter. He'll keep gnawin' away, with the idee he's hurtin' me terr'ble. An' I'll go 'bout my winder-washin' bus'ness meanwhile; knowin' he's too much took up with his little snake to do me any hurt. Why, son, 'twas one of my men that put Blacarda up to this scheme of gettin' a special session called so he could knock my Steeloid called so he could knock my Steelold Comp'ny out."

Caine made no reply but watched Caleb mop the perspiration of unwonted verbosity from his forehead. At last he asked, with his bantering smile:

"Have you read me by any change?" "Have you read me, by any chance?"
"Have I read my A. B. C.?" retorted Caleb in fine contempt.

"I'm not buyin' a red can'py an' giv-in' two-dallar character readin's," said Conover brusquely. "Ever in the Adir-ondacks? Anything to do there?" "Plenty—for the man who can appreciate its glories," retorted Caine with pleasant insolence. "Very little for a man of your type, I should fancy. Why?"

"I hope maybe you could put me on the sound of the pointers."

"I hope maybe you could put me on to some of the pointers," answered Caleb. "It's the first vacation I ever had. An' I want all the fun out of it I can get. But I'm blest if I know where the fun comes in."

"A ward heeler would probably regard a Corot in much the same way," observed Caine, still inwardly smarting at the Fighter's good natured con-at the Fighter's good natured con-tempt. "But surely Miss Shevlin must not to ding that into your head? It have told you in some of her letters ain't goin' to." defended himself. "But you must remember, practically all my money is in Steeloid. On your recommendation could tell you. Doesn't she—?"

"Oh ev'ry letter she writes is full of it," acquiesced Caleb, gloomily. "But An Odd Will.

A correspondent sends us a copy of an old will on record in the office of the ordinary of Lumpkin country. Can't make out what the good times are. Just listen to this, fir instance. First letter I had from her. No. The smashed an' the public sees Steeloid in on the ground to star the second."

metal case, unlocked and opened it. It was full of letters. Each envelope that glanced in silence over

"I fell as if I were on the top of a man to confine himself to a single line of revenge."

"There's where you're wrong, son," answered Conover. "The trouble with you people is, you get all your learnin' from books wrote by other folks as stoopid as yourselves. The thing to study ain't a book. It's your fellerman. Then there'd be fewer folks took in by gold-brick games. Look at me, now, f'r instance. I never read a book clear through in my life. But there ain't a man of my 'quaintance I selves. It's the outdoorest place I ever saw. We row and fish and tramp and swim and loaf all day, and go on picnics. And late in the afternoons there's a regular fleet of boats that put ou into the lake to watch the sunset. 'The evenings we go to the open camps and lie back among the balsam boughs and watch the big camp fires and tell stories and sing college songs. And some-times we coax Ed Bennett to come down to the camp with his violin and down to the camp with his violin and give us "The Arkansaw Traveler" or tell us one of his stories. He has the vocabulary of a college professor. He knows all the Adirondack books, and he reads us chapters from them. "And by ten o'clock, generally, everybody is in bed, sleeping as no one can sleep in town. One man in a tent left his mouth over when he went to

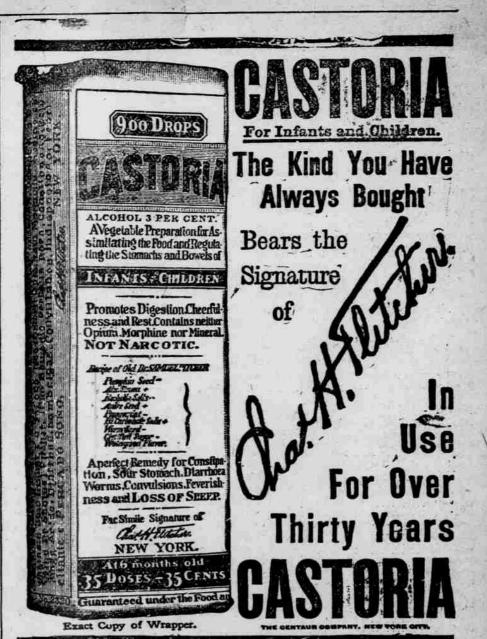

V-shaped noises that got all three of the dogs to barking and waked everybody up. There's the loveliest collie here. His name is Rex. He has adopted me and goes everywhere with me. Sometimes even when I haven't any candy to give him. I wanted to buy him and take him home. But Mr. Bennett,—not Ed, but his brother, the proprietor,—won't sell him for any price. Isn't it horrid? Rex and Siegfried-Mickey would get on beautifully price. Isn't it horrid? Rex and Sieg-fried-Mickey would get on beautifully together, I know. And their color schemes harmonize so perfectly.

"And—Oh, I forgot!—there's a yellow kitten here, too, that's made friends with me. And what do you suppose one of the boys did the other evening? We had a welsh-rarebit party at the open camp, and he powered here all open camp, and he poured beer all over the yellow kitten's fur, just before we went away. And of course, cat-like, she licked it all off. And she came bounding into my room ten minutes bounding into my room ten minutes later in a perfectly scandalous condition. The beer she had licked up from her fur had gone to the poor little thing's head. Her eyes were as big as saucers and she purred all the time like a wagon-ful of rattly steel rails. And she went dancing 'round in circles on three legs and trying to climb the wall; till she fell askeep in my the wall; till she fell asleep in my waste basket. Wasn't it a shame? I'm sorry I laughed. But she did look so weird. And her fur smelt so horribly of beer that I couldn't pick her up (To be Continued.)

AS WELL AND AS MUCH

No merchant ever failed if he advertised as WELL nt the big, pizenous brute coiled up there below his hand. He goes on washin' the winder like there wasn't a

FINE Wines and Liquors

BRIDGEPORT DISTRIBUTING CO.,

102 STATE STREET, NEAR PUBLIC MARKET California Port or Sherry, 75 cents per gallon. Port, Sherry, Tokay, Muscatel, Rhine Wine, etc. Full quart Sherwood Rye Whiskey, $1.00. Cooking Brandy, Liquors, Cordials, Ale and Lager Beet. Free Delivery. Telephone 264-3

BE U TO THE REAL New Made Spring Butter, fresh from the churn 28c PER POUND

THE PEOPLE'S DAIRY. 130 State St

INSIST UPON HYGIENIC ICE

ALWAYS CLEAN, CLEAR, PURE, WHOLESOME

For household use there is nothing superior—the big crystal blocks are frozen from water that has been purified through of a way to make it purer

THE NAUGATUCK VALLEY ICE 'CO.

HOUSATONIC AVENUE

Down Town Office

154 FAIRFIELD AVENUE

IRA GREGORY & CO.,

Main Street

Established 1847

Main Office Stratford Avenue

WAKE UP! STOP DREAMING : : :

THE ARNOLD COAL COMPANY

YARD AND MAIN OFFICE Branch Office GEO. B. CLAR & CO. 150 Housatonic Avenue 30 Fairfield Avenue

COAL === WOOD

Flour, Grain, Hay and Straw, WHOLESALE BERKSHIRE MILLS.

Try Sprague's Extra

GRADE LEHIGH COAL Sprague Ice&CoalCo.

ABSOLUTELY COAL GUARANTEED CLEAN

SCREENED BY A NEW MACHINE

just installed, and we invite customers to call at our yard and see it in operation. Coal is advancing in price each month at wholesale and must soon advance at retail.

DO NOT DELAY ORDERING

WHEELER & HOWES.

944 MAIN ST. Yard, East End Congress Street Bridge

ADVERTISE IN THE FARMER.